ATTORNEY

Enrika is an attorney in our litigation practice group.

She attended Grand Valley State University, where she graduated cum laude in 1992 with a Bachelor of Business Administration, majoring in accounting and minoring in political science. Enrika earned her law degree from Indiana University Law School in Bloomington, Indiana in 1996.

Since admission to the State Bar of Michigan in 1996, Enrika has specialized in municipal law. Her municipal law practice encompasses a broad range of areas including contracts, probate, real estate, land use, civil litigation, and criminal prosecution. Her practice also includes representing veterans in disability compensation appeals and providing estate planning and probate administration services.

Enrika grew up in rural Rhodes, Michigan where she developed a strong work ethic from her responsibilities on the family farm. She is a long-time member of the Catholic Church.

Away from the office, Enrika enjoys time with her husband and three children. A few of her favorite hobbies are playing the piano, completing jigsaw puzzles, and reading works of Jane Austen, Elizabeth Gaskell, and Ted Dekker.
